

EURAXESS Latin America and Caribbean States (CELAC) – your international network

“EURAXESS – Researchers in Motion” is a European Commission initiative focused on researcher mobility and career development and aimed at strengthening scientific collaboration between Europe and the rest of the world. EURAXESS is active in 40 European countries and has representatives in six countries/regions all over the world.

A multidisciplinary network for researchers at all stages of their careers. Membership is free.

In short, EURAXESS can help you in various ways by offering:

- The EURAXESS Jobs website: A tool to publish and/or find job opportunities and the EURAXESS Funding database to find funding opportunities to help you increasing your mobility as a researcher. Researchers can also publish their CVs and institutions seeking to attract international talent can publish their offers for free.
- EURAXESS Services: a network of 250 service centres in 40 European countries, providing free practical information to researchers and their families who plan to move to Europe. These centres specifically help researchers dealing with issues such as housing, visas and work permits, language classes, schools for children, social security and medical care, among others.
- EURAXESS Worldwide: The international arm of EURAXESS linking Europe to eight ASEAN countries, China, India, Japan, Latin America and Caribbean States , and North America,

One of the objectives of EURAXESS Latin America and Caribbean States is to help European researchers living and working in Brazil and Latin America and Caribbean States to establish contact with one another and to remain in contact with Europe. The network is also open to all researchers in order to stimulate scientific cooperation between Europe and Latin America and Caribbean States and reinforce Europe as an outstanding research location.

Services offered by EURAXESS Latin America and Caribbean States

Based in Brazil,, EURAXESS Latin America and Caribbean States promotes three types of activities: The dissemination of information, networking of researchers, and organisation of events by providing the following free services:

- EURAXESS Latin America and Caribbean States website (<http://celac.euraxess.org>), providing information on jobs and funding opportunities, as well as recent developments of interest to the research community, and events. This is accessible for all Latin America and Caribbean States.
- A mailing list including selected multipliers in additional Latin America and Caribbean States, for interested researchers or institutions to receive weekly updates on policy developments, open calls, research events, funding, jobs and collaboration between Europe and Latin America and Caribbean States; Distribution of a list of open calls to fund collaboration and/or mobility between the two regions, and a quarterly newsletter.
- A Facebook page in Portuguese currently only focusing on researchers based in Brazil: facebook.com/EuraxessLinksBrasil.
- A group on LinkedIn: EURAXESS Links – International Researchers.
- Networking events for researchers providing support with international mobility projects.
- Presentations of the network and services offered at institutions or scientific events in Brazil, as well as introducing the main European funding programmes for mobility (MSCA, ERC).

EURAXESS Science Slam Brazil

EURAXESS Links holds an annual scientific communication contest called EURAXESS Science Slam Brazil.

The competition gives researchers based in Brazil the chance to showcase their research projects to their peers and the wider public in an entertaining, yet intelligible manner.

The competition is open to all researchers of all nationalities and from all fields of research, from Masters students to more experienced researchers. More details: scienceslambrasil.com.
